A new contemporary production Presented by 2 Heavy Productions & Chelsea Theatre.

Written by Nathan Hamblin and directed by Steve Macaulay.

Girls is a bold and confronting contemporary drama following four teenage schoolgirls who commit a deeply troubling act.

As the aftermath ripples outward, friendships fracture, loyalties shift, and each girl is forced to confront the consequences of their actions – many for the first time in their lives.

Set within the pressure cooker of modern adolescence, the play is a tense but compassionate coming-of-age story that explores bullying, accountability, and growing up in a world shaped by social media and public shame.

Developed with 2 Heavy Productions, Girls features performers from Chelsea Theatre's Acting Workshop. Chelsea Theatre is a registered charity committed to supporting emerging talent and serving the local community.
