

Saturday 13 June: 7.30pm

Sunday 14 of June: 4pm.

Tamise en Scène present Nikolai Erdman's biting comedy about a society ready to do anything, even the worst. Directed by Denis Boyer, performed in French.

Unemployed Semyon is not in the best of health. Very quickly, his family and neighbours imagine he wants to end his life. The misunderstanding grows and becomes uncontrollable. Soon, strangers are parading through his home, determined to make his death a symbol for their cause: Love, religion, the intelligentsia... and even Semyon ends up getting caught up in it.

Please note: this show is in French
